FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements in this Annual Information Form ("AIF") and in 2016 management's report constitute forward-looking statements which are based on management's beliefs and information currently available to management, as well as on a number of assumptions concerning future events made by management. The use of words such as "anticipate", "believe", "could", "expect", "may", "estimate", "continue", "intend", and similar expressions, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. These statements are intended to express known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause actual results or events to differ materially from those anticipated in such forward-looking statements. Management believes the expectations expressed by these statements are based on reasonable assumptions, but no assurance can be given that these expectations will prove to be correct. Forward-looking statements should only be relied upon with this caution in mind.

Forward-looking statements in this AIF include, but are not limited to, statements with respect to future capital expenditures, including the amount and nature of such expenditures, currency fluctuations, business strategy, including integration of acquisitions, expansion and growth of the Corporation's business and operations, including the Corporation's market share and position, and other such matters. The Corporation's actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of risks, uncertainties and assumptions which are difficult to predict, including, general economic, market and business conditions, incorrect assessments of the value of acquisitions, fluctuations in foreign exchange or interest rates, increase in competition, lack of available qualified management and key employees, changing technology and other factors, many of which are beyond the control of the Corporation. This list of factors should not be exhaustive and readers should also consider the items set out under the heading "Risk Factors" in this AIF. Except as required under applicable securities law, management is under no obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements. These statements reflect only information as of the date of this AIF.

The flowchart shows the jurisdictions of incorporation as well as the percentages of voting rights held as at December 31, 2016.

GENERAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE BUSINESS

Three-Year History

2014

In April 2014, the Corporation completed a private placement underwriting 5.75 million units at a price of $3.25 per unit, for net proceeds of $17.5 million. Each unit consisted of one common share and one-half warrant entitling its holder to purchase one additional common share of Savaria at an exercise price of $4.25. These warrants expire on April 15, 2017.

In September 2014, the Corporation acquired all the operational assets of Silver Cross. Through this acquisition, Savaria became the operator of a franchise network which sells both new and recycled accessibility equipment, and of a lead identification program whereby potential customer names are distributed to over 100 affiliates in North America. This allowed the Corporation to increase its number of referrals obtained via the Internet from 3,500 to 10,500 per year.

In 2014, sales of Stairfriend, the new stairlift for curved stairs which was developed in 2013, took off. Also at that time, development began for the K2, a new stairlift for straight stairs.

In the Adapted Vehicles segment, a new minivan based on the chassis of the Ram ProMaster has also been developed; this vehicle carries up to seven passengers, three of whom can be in wheelchairs.

In May 2015, the Corporation completed a bought deal private placement of 2.875 million common shares at a price of $5.00 per share, for net proceeds to Savaria of $13.5 million.

In early August 2015, the research and development of a new complementary product, a patient lift, started in Magog, Quebec; introduction to market was planned for August 2016.

In order to increase its vehicle conversion capacity, in August 2015, Savaria acquired a 57,000-square-foot building in Laval, Quebec.

In the third quarter of 2015, Savaria acquired the assets of three Silver Cross franchises located in Ottawa, St. Catharines and Toronto, Ontario; they joined the corporate store located in Oakville, Ontario. Savaria furthered its strategy of operating corporate stores in the major Canadian markets to meet the mobility needs of the aging population, while franchising the other markets. Also in the third quarter of 2015, the K2, a new stairlift for straight stairs, was introduced to market.

At the beginning of the year, the Corporation head office, direct sales group and Van Action (the vehicle conversion plant) moved together into the new building in Laval. Up and running in February 2016, the new plant reached a production rate above its maximum forecasted capacity as early as March 2016. In May, the Corporation acquired the vehicle division of Shoppers Home Health Care. This transaction added vehicle conversion points of sales in Victoria and Vancouver, BC, Edmonton and Calgary, AB, and London and Waterloo, ON. To meet the growing demand, investments were made at the new Laval plant, doubling the original production capacity by the end of the year. 2016 also saw the development of two new products based on the Chrysler Pacifica platform: a side entry van and a rear entry van. These vehicles were unveiled in February 2017 and will be available at the end of the second quarter of 2017.

In June, the Corporation completed a bought deal private placement of 2.6 million shares at $7.80 per share, for net proceeds to Savaria of $19.1 million.

In the Accessibility segment, a new product, a patient lift called the Monarch, was introduced to market in September 2016. Research and development activities continue in Magog, Quebec, to expand this new product line.

Since September 2016, Savaria is in the S&P/TSX Small Cap Index.

In November 2016, the Bourassa family completed a secondary offering of 1.75 million Savaria shares at $11.34 per share.

In February 2017, the Company acquired the assets of Premier Lifts, Inc., a major distributor of elevators in the Baltimore-Washington area and a long-time Savaria customer.

OVERVIEW OF THE BUSINESS

Savaria is one of North America's leaders in the accessibility industry. It provides accessibility solutions for the elderly and physically challenged to increase their mobility and independence. The diversity of its product line, one of the most comprehensive on the market, includes stairlifts, wheelchair lifts, patient lifts and residential and commercial elevators and the conversion and adaptation of vehicles. Savaria's operations in China have substantially grown and the collaboration with Savaria's other Canadian facilities increases its competitive edge in the market place. The Corporation, whose head office along with a vehicle conversion plant are located in Laval, Quebec, in a 57,000-square-foot building, also has a 125,000-square-foot plant in Brampton, Ontario and a 75,000-square-foot plant in Huizhou, China, as well as 11 sales offices and retail stores throughout Canada.

Savaria Corporation's operations are divided into two reportable segments: Accessibility and Adapted Vehicles. These segments are structured per the market segment each addresses.

During fiscal 2016, 51% of Savaria's total revenue was generated from the United States, 42% from Canada and the remaining 7% from outside North America.

A. Accessibility

Overview of the business

The Accessibility segment designs, manufactures, distributes and installs accessibility products such as stairlifts for both straight and curved stairs, vertical and inclined platform lifts and elevators for home and commercial use. In September 2016, a patient lift developed and manufactured at the Magog, Quebec plant has been added to our product offering. All other products are manufactured, assembled and customized at the Brampton, Ontario plant and are offered through a network of some 300 active retailers, which are primarily located in North America. The Huizhou (China) plant is the main supplier of parts and components for the Brampton plant; also, it assembles product components and finished products mainly for the benefit of the Corporation, but also for the sale of products on the Asian and European markets. Its product line, the most comprehensive on the market, includes fourteen products. A portion of the products manufactured by the Brampton facility are distributed and installed in the provinces of Quebec, Ontario and Alberta.

This segment also includes the operations from the Silver Cross division, consisting of a network of franchises and corporate stores through which new and recycled accessibility equipment is sold, and a lead generation program to capture and distribute leads on potential customers to close to 100 affiliates in North America.

Savaria's products meet the requirements of Canadian Standards Association (CSA) or American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME). The applicable standards and codes are CSA B355 (Lifts for Persons with Physical Disabilities), ASME A18.1 (Safety Standard for Platform Lifts and Stairway Chairlifts) and CSA B44 (Safety Code for Elevators). Some of the products sold in the United States must also comply with the FDA (Food and Drug Administration) code. These safety standards specify minimum requirements for the design, construction, installation and testing of accessibility equipment.

The products are sold on both the commercial market (50%) and the residential market (50%). The Accessibility segment generated revenues of some $96 million in 2016 (2015: $83 million), representing 80% (2015: 87%) of the total revenues of the Corporation.

Production

Savaria designs and manufactures its accessibility products and elevators at its manufacturing facility in Brampton, Ontario. Product testing is conducted at the same facility. When parts are received, they are compared to the original design. Samples are selected from each received shipment and are submitted to rigorous testing. Once the samples have successfully passed all quality control tests, the product is sub-assembled. Other components are then painted, followed by the assembly of the electric/electronic components. Quality control, inspection, and examination are performed by non-assembly employees who specialize in quality control.

Components

Savaria acquires approximately 80% of required parts from external suppliers and assembles the final products. Drawings of the various components used to assemble final products are submitted to subcontractors that supply these parts to Savaria using the just-in-time production strategy. Suppliers compete on price, delivery, service and quality. The inventory turnover rate is fourteen weeks.

New Products

The Corporation operates two research and development centers; the most important one is located in Huizhou, China, and the other one is in Magog, Quebec. The first is responsible for the development of accessibility products such as stairlifts, and the second of the new patient lift product line.

Competitive Conditions

There are two major competitors to Savaria within the North American accessibility equipment industry. Most of the information relating to competition in the accessibility equipment industry was obtained through corporate websites and information provided directly by Savaria.

Bruno Independent Living Aids, Inc, Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, USA
Garaventa (Canada) Ltd., Surrey, British Columbia, Canada

Employees

This segment employs a total of 395 people: 181 in assembly, 88 in administration, 47 in installation, 44 in sales and marketing, 35 in engineering and research and development.

Foreign Operations

In the Accessibility segment, Savaria's foreign operations are sales of finished products and purchases of raw material. In 2016, the segment generated approximately 64% of its revenues from the U.S., 29% from Canada and the balance from the international market. As for purchases, approximately 27% are from Canada, 15% are from the U.S., 49% are from Asia and the balance from other countries. Note that 92% of the total value of purchases from Asia is from the subsidiary Savaria Huizhou. See also, Risk Factors > General > Currency Fluctuations below.

B. Adapted Vehicles

Overview of the business

Through its Adapted Vehicles segment, the Corporation converts and adapts minivans to facilitate the transport of mobility challenged people via its Van-Action, Laval, Quebec and Freedom Motors, Brampton, Ontario subsidiaries. Its new Silver Cross Automotive subsidiary, which in May 2016 acquired the assets of Shoppers Home Health Care (the automotive division of Shoppers Drug Mart), distributes converted vehicles in the Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia retail markets. The product line-up includes models with rear entry, side entry and dual entry. By adding a ramp and lowering the floor, minivans become accessible to people in wheelchairs. They can be used for personal or commercial purposes. Van-Action also adapts vehicles by installing lifting platforms, motorized winches, various manual controls and other accessories that aid people with reduced mobility in their driving.

This segment generated $23 million in revenue in 2016 (2015: $13 million), representing 20% of total revenue of the Corporation (2015: 13%).

Production

This segment design, manufacture, test and distribute lowered-floor minivans to accommodate wheelchairs. Approximately 600 vans were converted in 2016. The line includes stages starting with disassembling the interior and mechanical components of the van, cutting open the floor, welding a new floor in place, painting, rewiring the electricity, reassembling the mechanical components and interior of the van and performing road tests.

Components

Approximately 300 parts are used to convert the vans. Of those, approximately 80% are from external suppliers. The inventory turnover rate is sixteen weeks.

New Products

Two new products based on the Chrysler Pacifica platform are currently in their final development phase. These vehicles were unveiled in February 2017 and will be available at the end of the second quarter of 2017.

Competitive Conditions

There are three major competitors to Savaria in the adapted vehicles market within North America:

Braun Corporation, Winamac, Indiana, USA
VMI, Phoenix, Arizona, USA
Sidewinder, Chilliwack, British Columbia, Canada

Employees

This segment employs a total of 121 people: 74 in assembly, 20 in administration, 19 in sales and marketing, 8 in engineering and research and development.

Foreign Operations

In 2016, approximately 95% of revenue comes from Canada and 5% from one client in Sweden.

As for purchases, approximately 86% are from Canada and the balance is imported from the U.S.

RISK FACTORS

The risks and uncertainties described below are not the only ones Savaria may face. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to the Corporation or that it currently deems immaterial may also impair business operations. If any of the following risks occurs, the business, financial conditions or results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

General

Financing - Savaria may require additional financing in the future. The ability of the Corporation to arrange such financing in the future will depend, in part, upon the prevailing capital market conditions, as well as the business performance of the Corporation. There can be no assurance that Savaria will be successful in its efforts to arrange additional financing on terms satisfactory to the Corporation. If additional financing is raised by the issuance of shares from the treasury of the Corporation, shareholders may suffer additional dilution and control of the Corporation may change. If adequate funds are not available, or are not available under acceptable terms, Savaria may not be able to take advantage of opportunities, develop new products or otherwise respond to competitive pressures.

Limited Product Lines and Risk of Delays - Most of Savaria's sales are currently derived from a limited number of products and such products are expected to account for a substantial portion of the Corporation's revenues in the near term. In addition, the Corporation may experience delays in the development of new products and the enhancement of existing products.

Costs - Fixed costs, including costs associated with leases, labour costs, depreciation and interest expense account for a significant portion of the Corporation's costs and expenses. Thus, downtime or low productivity resulting from lower demand, equipment failure or other factors could result in significant operating losses for Savaria.

Growth Related Risks - Savaria's potential growth can place significant demands on management and other resources. The Corporation's ability to manage its growth effectively will require it to continue to develop and improve its operational, financial and other internal systems, as well as its business development capabilities and to train, motivate and manage its employees. If Savaria is unable to finance and manage its growth effectively, such inability could have a material adverse effect on the quality of its products, its ability to retain key personnel, its business, its financial condition and its operating results.

Currency Fluctuations – The Corporation realizes approximately 58% of its revenues in foreign currencies and accordingly is exposed to market risks related to foreign exchange fluctuations. Major exchange rate fluctuations could have a significant impact on its revenue and consequently on its gross margin. The Corporation partially compensates for these risks by purchasing materials in U.S. dollars and by using derivative financial instruments such as foreign exchange forward contracts. These contracts oblige the Corporation to sell U.S. dollars at a fixed rate.

Interest Rates Fluctuations – The Corporation's interest rate risk arises from its long-term loans, bank loans and long-term debt. Borrowings issued at variable rates expose the Corporation to risks of cash flow variation related to interest rate fluctuations, whereas borrowings issued at fixed rates expose the Corporation to fair value variation due to interest rate fluctuations. Most of the Corporation's debts bear interest at variable rates. To minimize this risk, the Corporation signed interest rate swap agreements for some of its long-term loans.

Dependence on the U.S. Market

In 2016, the percentage of Savaria's revenue recorded in the United States totaled 51% (55% in 2015). The Corporation's profitability could therefore be affected by any major event having a negative impact on the U.S. economy or the trade relations between Canada and the United States.

Competition

There are a number of companies marketing and distributing accessibility equipment. Some of these companies may have substantially more financial and technical resources, more extensive research and development capabilities, greater marketing, distribution, and human resources and products already accepted in the market place. See sections "Competitive Conditions" of the segments, above.

The accessibility equipment industry is subject to technological change. There can be no assurance that developments by others will not render Savaria's products non-competitive or that it will be able to keep pace with technological developments. Some of these products may have an entirely different approach or means of accomplishing the desired result than products being developed by Savaria and could be more effective and less costly than Savaria's products.

Key Personnel

Savaria believes its future success will depend upon its ability to retain its key management personnel, including Marcel Bourassa, the Corporation's President and CEO, because of his experience and knowledge regarding the development, special opportunities and challenges of Savaria's business. The Corporation may not be successful in attracting and retaining key employees in the future. Savaria's future success and its ability to expand its operations will also depend in large part on its ability to attract and retain additional qualified marketing, sales and technical personnel.

The Corporation may not be able to hire, train, retain, motivate and manage required personnel or to successfully identify, manage and exploit existing and potential market opportunities. Competition for these types of employees is intense due to the limited number of qualified professionals available. Failure to attract and retain personnel, particularly marketing, sales and technical personnel could make it difficult for the Corporation to manage its business and meet its objectives.

Product Liability

Savaria, like other manufacturing companies, is subject to a variety of potential liabilities connected with its business operations, including potential liabilities and expenses associated with possible product defects. The Corporation's products are highly complex and sophisticated and, from time to time, may contain design and manufacturing defects that are difficult to detect and correct. There can be no assurance that errors will not be found in new products after commencement of commercial shipments or, if discovered, that the Corporation will be able to successfully correct such errors in a timely manner or at all. In addition, despite tests carried out by the Corporation on all of its products to achieve, as much as possible, first pass product success, there is no assurance that Savaria will be able to fully simulate the environment in which its products will operate. As a result, the Corporation may be unable to adequately detect design and manufacturing defects in its products and they may only become apparent after the products are installed. The consequences of such errors and failures could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Consistent with industry practice, Savaria allows customers to return products for warranty repair, replacement or credit. Although the Corporation will provide allowances for anticipated returns, and management believes that the policies of the Corporation have resulted in the establishment of allowances that are adequate, there is no assurance that such product returns will not exceed such allowances in the future and as a result may have a material adverse effect on future operating results. If any of the products distributed by Savaria prove defective, the Corporation may be required to refund the price of or replace the product. Replacement or recall of such products may cause the Corporation to incur significant expenses and adversely affect the reputation of Savaria and its products.

Savaria maintains liability and other insurance coverage which it believes to be generally in accordance with industry practices. Nevertheless, such insurance coverage may not be adequate to fully protect the Corporation against substantial damage claims which may arise from product defects and failures.

Government Regulation

All Savaria products have to meet the requirements of the Canadian Standards Association (CSA) and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME), and some of the products sold in the United States must also comply with the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) code. Although Savaria intends to seek all necessary approvals for future products, there can be no assurance that the codes and standards relating to such approvals will not change, thus requiring additional approvals, or that Savaria will be able to secure all necessary approvals at acceptable costs or within desired time frames.

Return on Investment

Savaria may continue to expand its operations or product lines through the acquisition of additional businesses, products or technologies. There can be no assurance that the Corporation will be able to identify, acquire or profitably manage additional businesses or successfully integrate any acquired businesses, products or technologies into the Corporation without substantial expenses, delays or other operational or financial problems. Furthermore, acquisitions involve a number of special risks, including diversion of management's attention, failure to retain key acquired personnel, unanticipated events or circumstances and legal liabilities, some or all of which could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's business, results of operations and financial condition. In addition, there can be no assurance that acquired businesses, products or technologies, if any, will achieve anticipated revenues and income. An acquisition could also result in a potentially dilutive issuance of equity securities. If a strategy of growth through acquisition is pursued, the failure of the Corporation to manage this strategy successfully could have a material adverse effect on Savaria's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Operating Results

There is no assurance that the Corporation will achieve profitability in the future or that it will be able to generate sufficient cash from operations, or to raise sufficient financing, to fund its operations. Savaria's annual and quarterly results are affected by a number of factors. The primary factors affecting operating results are the level and timing of customer orders, fluctuations in materials costs and the mix of materials costs versus labour and manufacturing overhead costs. Other factors affecting annual and quarterly operating results include price competition, the Corporation's experience manufacturing a particular product, the efficiencies achieved by the Corporation in managing inventories, fixed assets and manufacturing capacity, the timing of expenditures in anticipation of increased sales, the timing of acquisitions and related integration costs, customer product delivery requirements, product defects, shortage of raw materials or labour, expenditures or write-offs related to acquisitions, distribution and marketing costs, expenses relating to expanding existing manufacturing facilities and overall economic conditions in the accessibility equipment industry. Any one of these factors or a combination thereof could have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's results of operations, business, prospects and financial condition and could cause variability of results from period to period.

Healthcare Reimbursement

Savaria's ability to grow sales of accessibility equipment may depend, in part, on the extent to which reimbursement for the cost of such products will be available from government health administration authorities, private health coverage insurers, and other organizations. Third-party payers are increasingly challenging the price of medical equipment. There can be no assurance that third-party coverage will be available to assist potential buyers of Savaria's products.

Proprietary Rights

Much of Savaria's rights to know-how and technology may not be patentable, though this know-how and technology may constitute trade secrets. There can be no assurance that the Corporation will be able to meaningfully protect its rights to trade secrets. To help protect its rights, Savaria would require employees, consultants, suppliers and subcontractors to enter into confidentiality agreements. There can be no assurance that these agreements will provide meaningful protection for the Corporation's rights to trade secrets, know-how or other proprietary information in the event of any unauthorized use or disclosure.

Technological Alteration

Savaria's products are manufactured to specifications designated by each country within which product is sold. A country can announce changes to its specifications for equipment design that can materially affect Savaria's production, design and implementation processes, thereby forcing the absorption of additional costs while adjusting to the new specifications.
